

WISH Award

The Women in Safety organization was designed by the Utah Safety Council as a group for professional women within safety and health industries. Women in Safety brings a unique perspective to these industries, and the Utah Safety Community by providing an opportunity for new topics, open discussions, education, service and networking.

Each year, this group presents the Women in Safety and Health Award to a deserving woman who has shown exceptional dedication and leadership.

The recipient is selected based on a variety of criteria including:

- Exceptional performance in a leadership role
- Involved in implementation of safety cultural change(s) in their workplace or industry
- Demonstrates creative excellence
- Significantly impacted the safety and health of employees
- Contributes to Utah Safety Council’s overall objective of making Utah a safer place to live and work
- Participated or created a unique safety initiative

The award is presented at the end-of-year Women in Safety Event, and the recipient is also are honored during the Utah Safety Council’s Annual Meeting and Awards.
