MSHA 32-Hour Training for New/ Inexperienced Underground Miners

Dates: January 25-28; March 22-25
Time: 7:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.
Participant: $375 on-site training available*

This training course gives new miners the knowledge they need to face the safety and health hazards involved in underground mining. Students will receive their MSHA 5000-23 form upon completion.

MSHA Site-Specific Requirements: This course provides participants with a total of 32 hours of the 40 required training hours. Due to the diversity of our students, task and hazard awareness training will not be included in the Utah Safety Council's training session. The site-specific training must be conducted at the mine site according to the mine operator's training plan. This constitutes the remaining eight-hours of required training for underground miners.

Students will also receive First Aid, CPR, and AED certification.

Interested in MSHA Training?

Come to us or let us bring the training to you. On-site or specially arranged classes can be scheduled as needed on weekdays or weekends by filling out our online request form or giving us a call.
